

DAILY READING: WHO IS GOD?

I trust God as the sustainer of my life. My understanding of God is growing and maturing and will continue until the day I see Him face-to-face. Until then He has given me this amazing library of books called the Bible to help me grow in my understanding and knowledge of Him.

God is awesome, the Creator of all things; He is the source of all life. That means He has final authority, the last word. He is the One who will make things right in the end. Though He does not need anything from me, He loves me and He wants a relationship with Him. All things, including me, were created by Him, with a purpose and plan to glorify Him. I trust God as the sustainer of my life.

I believe God is immeasurably loving and wise, and He relates to me personally through Jesus. He has a game plan for my life. I trust God as the One who can sustain my life from day-to-day. Although I get tired, confused and sad, my feelings are not my reality. When I don't see a future, I trust in God and live in His eternal hope. I trust God as the sustainer of my life.

My loving Heavenly Father knows and understands me completely and He cares about every detail of my life, I do not need to live in fear of anything. I will always remember God's timing is perfect. Because of this, I have hope. It is a hope many of my friends do not have. I will live my life knowing His power is working in me and His purpose for me is to glorify Him. I respond to all circumstances with courage and will live by faith. From this day forward, I trust God as the sustainer of my life.

MEMORY VERSE:

1 Corinthians 8:6
 "But for us, there is one God, the Father, by whom all things were created, and for whom we live. And there is one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom all things were created and through whom we live."
 1 Corinthians 8:6
